The motion for suppression is denied in all respects. The deft can object to the offer of this evidence at the trial on the grounds of relevancy. A ruling will be made as to that objection at the trial at the trial after I have had an opportunity to determine its relevancy. So Ordered, Duffy, J.

DATE	PROCEEDINGS
Jan 17-74	Filed Opinion # 10240: On the evening of Feb 3, 1972 agents of the Joint Task Force were sent out to execute certain arrests. Both arrests were to be made in connection with the sale and distribution of narcotics. When said agent placed Vincent Papa a conspirator and deft movant Joseph Di Napoli under arrest they found a suitcase containing nearly one million dollars in a green Pontiac they were riding in, owned by a rental car by WIDE WORLD LEASES CORPORATION. It is this money which the deft. Di Napoli to suppress. The fact that the officers proved erroneous in their judgment that the seized narcotics does not invalidate the arrest if their initial belief was reasonable. If the Officer acts with probable cause he is protected even though it turns out that citizen is innocent. Applying this standard the facts and circumstances on which the officers relied must be considered in their totality not as isolated events. Applying standards I find the Agent Callatoni had probable cause to stop and arrest Vincent and Joseph Di Napoli on the night in question and had probable cause to search the automobile for contraband. That search reasonably included opening the suspect suitcase. The motion to suppress the evidence in question is therefore denied. So Ordered. Duffy, J.
Jan 18-74	Filed Affidavit & Notice of Motion by Frank A. Lopez, (atty for deft. Di Napoli) for an order suppressing the introduction into evidence in these proceedings of all statements obtained and seized from the deft etc. as indicated rtble before Duffy, J. on Jan 7th, 1974.

REQUEST TO CHARGE 73 Cr. 1099

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

-----X

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA :

-against- :

73 Cr. 1099 (KJD)

CARMINE TRAMONTI, et al. :

Defendants :

-----X

The defendant Carmine Tramonti, respectfully requests the Court to charge as follows:

REQUEST NO. 1

Testimony of an Accomplice

"An accomplice's testimony is to be received with caution and care and weighed with caution and care. Experience has shown that accomplices may be motivated to place the responsibilities on others than themselves. Accordingly, an accomplice's testimony should be closely examined, weighed with care, checked with the facts which you find to exist in this case, and against the evidence which may or may not corroborate them, and then you should give the testimony such value or weight as you deem important under the circumstances. You may not convict on unsupported accomplice testimony unless you believe that testimony, like other witnesses, beyond a reasonable doubt.

United States v Projansky, 465 F2d, 123, 136 (2d Cir. 1972);
United States v Phillips, 426 F2d 1069, 1071 (2d Cir. 1970).

REQUEST NO. 2

Proof of Participation in a Conspiracy

In your consideration, then, of the evidence, you should first determine whether or not the conspiracy to distribute narcotics existed as charged in the indictment. If you conclude that such a conspiracy did exist, you should next determine as to each defendant separately whether or not he or she was a party to or member of the conspiracy with knowledge of its illegal purpose and with the intention to assist the conspiracy to achieve its illegal objective.

In considering whether or not a particular defendant was a member of the conspiracy you must do so without regard to and independently of the statements or declarations of others. That is to say, you must determine the issue as to his or her membership in the conspiracy from his or her own statements or declarations or acts or conduct.

United States v Stromberg, 268 F2d 256, 265 (2d Cir. 1959).

REQUEST NO. 3

Membership in a conspiracy.

In considering whether an individual defendant was a member of a conspiracy you must determine whether or not he or she, in some sense, sought to promote the venture to make it their own and had a stake in it's outcome.

The fact that one may have associated with a member of the conspiracy is not sufficient by itself to make that individual a member of the conspiracy.

United States v Falcone, 109 F2d 579 (2d Cir.), affirmed 311 U.S. 205 (1940).

United States v Cimino, 321 F2d 509, 510 (2d Cir. 1963).

REQUEST NO. 4

Knowing Spectator

In considering whether an individual defendant was a member of the conspiracy charged in the indictment you are instructed that the mere presence of an individual defendant at a time and place when the conspiracy is being carried on, even with knowledge of the existence and aims of the conspiracy is not sufficient evidence to make an individual defendant a member of the conspiracy.

United States v Garguilo, 310 F2d 249, 254 (2d Cir. 1962)

United States v Cimino, 321 F2d 509, 510 (2d Cir. 1963)

United States v Stromberg, 268 F2d 256, 267 (2d Cir. 1959).

REQUEST NO. 5

One who provides goods is not a member of a conspiracy

In considering whether an individual defendant was a member of the conspiracy you must remember that even if all you find, based on proof beyond a reasonable doubt, is that the defendant Tramunti provided or agreed to provide money for the defendant Inglesse to purchase narcotics you must acquit the defendant Tramunti on the charge of conspiracy.

One cannot be convicted of conspiracy unless the Government can prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant Tramunti, knew that the defendant Inglesse was a member of the conspiracy charged in count one and that it was his intention to assist that conspiracy to achieve it's objectives.

United States v Falcone, 311 U.S. 205, 207,210 (1940)

United States v Crimmins, 123 F2d 271, 273 (2d Cir. 1941)

United States v Borelli, 336 F2d 376 (2d Cir. 1964).

REQUEST NO. 6

Single Transaction

In considering whether an individual defendant was a member of the conspiracy charged I instruct you that if you find, beyond a reasonable doubt, that an individual made a single purchase or a single sale of narcotics to a member of the conspiracy, or aided and abetted in a single purchase or a single sale of contraband with a member of a conspiracy that, without more, is insufficient to make that individual a member of the conspiracy.

If you find that an individual defendant engaged in either a single purchase or sale of narcotics with a member of the conspiracy without more then you must acquit that individual defendant of the charge of conspiracy.

United States v Reina, 242 F2d 302, 306 (2d Cir. 1957)

United States v Ah Kee Eng, 241 F2d 157, 159 (2d Cir. 1957).

REQUEST NO. 7

State of Mind of the witness
Frank Stasi

The testimony of the government witness Frank Stasi as to his reason for not telling the police all that he knew about this case when they interviewed him after he had agreed to cooperate with them is not received for the truth of what was said by the witness, but solely on the issue of his credibility. The witness on cross-examination was asked certain questions as to statements which he had earlier made to the police.

I permitted the government on re-direct to explore that issue solely on the question of the witness' credibility.

What the witness said is not evidence as to the truth of what was said, but it is evidence pertaining solely to the witness' state of mind and it will be up to you and you alone to determine the credibility of the witness and the weight that you will give to his testimony.

United States v Berger, 433 F2d 680, 683-4 (2d Cir. 1970)

United States v Cirillo, 468 F2d 1233 (2d Cir. 1972).

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT S. SIEGAL

REQUESTED MODIFICATIONS TO
COURT'S PROPOSED CHARGE

The defendant Carmine Tramunti respectfully requests the following modifications to the Courts proposed charge.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

-against-

CARMINE TRAMUNIT, et al.

Defendants

73 Cr. 1099

REQUESTED MODIFICATION TO COURT'S PROPOSED CHARGE

I

All stipulations were entered into for the purpose of stipulating what the witness' testimony would be. No stipulations were entered into concerning the truth of what the witness testified to.

It is a question for the jury to determine whether or not the stipulated testimony was truthful, using the same tests and standards that it applies to all other testimony, and giving the stipulated testimony the weight it desires.

II

On the testimony of alleged accomplices the defendant Tramunti would request that the Court give the charge set forth in the first requested charge of the defendant Tramunti:

"An accomplice's testimony is to be received with caution and care and weighed with caution and care. Experience has shown that accomplices may be motivated to place the responsibility on others than themselves. Accordingly, an accomplice's testimony should be closely examined, weighed with care, checked, with the facts which you find to exist in this case, and against the evidence which may or may not corroborate them, and then you should give the testimony such value or weight as you deem important under the circumstances. [You may not convict on unsupported accomplice testimony unless you believe that testimony, like other witnesses, beyond a reasonable doubt.]

United States v. Projansky, 465 F2d 123, 136
(2d Cir. 1972)

United States v Phillips, 426 F2d 1069, 1071
(2d Cir. 1970).

III

The Court's charge as presently proposed fails to distinguish between mere concerted action toward a single goal by several individuals which is not a conspiracy, and an agreement between several individuals to work toward an illegal goal which is conspiracy. It should be made clear that to find that a conspiracy existed the Jury must find that an agreement existed between the co-conspirators, rather than merely look to the acts of several men to see if they were concerted (p. 2680. 2683-4).

United States v. Borelli, 336 F2d 376, 384
(2d Cir. 1964).

IV

The defendant Tramunti objects to the Court making any reference in it's charge as to the reason for the enactment of our present drug laws by Congress. The statement as to the purpose of this legislation is not relevant to the issues before the jury and is prejudicial to the defendants. (p. 2681).

The court has in its proposed charge stated that an individual may become a member of a conspiracy without knowing of the participation of others, this is erroneous.

In order to prove that an individual is a member of a conspiracy, there must be evidence establishing that he knew of the existence of others who belonged to the conspiracy and the general role that they played in the conspiracy. (p 2685).

United States v Andolschek, 142 F2d 503, 507
(2d Cir. 1944)

VI

The presumption concerning the continuity of membership in a conspiracy by any individual who has once joined the conspiracy is diminished as to the outer links of a conspiracy.

The jury should be instructed to examine the evidence against each individual and determine if he or she has been shown to be a member of a conspiracy by determining what agreement, if any, the individual made with his co-conspirators. The jury may find that an individual was a buyer of contraband indifferent to his source of supply, turning from one source to another, or a supplier indifferent to the identity of their customers and should be instructed to acquit that individual on the charge of conspiracy. (p 2685-6).

In determining whether an individual is a member of a conspiracy the defendant Tramunti takes exception to the Court's proposed charge and requests that the court charge as requested in the second proposed charge submitted by the defendant Tramunti.

In your consideration, then of the evidence, you should first determine whether or not the conspiracy to distribute narcotics existed as charged in the indictment. If you conclude that such a conspiracy did exist, you should next determine as to each defendant separately whether or not he or she was a party to or member of the conspiracy with knowledge of it's illegal purpose and with the intention to assist the conspiracy to achieve it's illegal objective.

In considering whether or not a particular defendant was a member of the conspiracy you must do so without regard to and independently of the statements or declarations of others. That is to say, you must determine the issue as to his or her membership in the conspiracy from his or her own statements or declarations or acts or conduct. (p 2687)

United States v. Stromberg, 268 F2d 256, 263
(2d Cir. 1959).

It should be noted that at the time of the preparation of these requested modifications counsel was not provided with a copy of Page 2690 of the transcript which dealt, presumably, with the court's charge on conspiracy.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully requested that these modifications set forth herein be incorporated in the Court's charge.

Respectfully submitted

SUPPLEMENTAL REQUESTS

HERBERT S. SIEGAL
17 John Street
New York, New York
(212) Re 2-5330

REQUEST NO. 1

Object of Conspiracy

In considering whether an individual defendant was a member of the conspiracy charged in Count One you must first determine if an individual was aware of the purposes of the conspiracy, and if he joined the conspiracy knowing of its purposes and with the intent to advance its interests.

In considering the evidence insofar as it concerns the defendant Tramunti, you must consider whether the word "goods" was used in a conversation to which he was a party and, if you find the word "goods" was used, you must then consider if there is evidence to prove that the defendant Tramunti knew that the word "goods" referred to narcotics.

If you have a reasonable doubt either that the word "goods" was used or if you have a reasonable doubt that the evidence proves that the defendant Tramunti understood the word "goods" to refer to narcotics you must acquit him on the charge of conspiracy.

United States v Gallishaw, 428 F2d 760, 763 (2d Cir. 1970)

REQUEST NO. 2

Multiple Conspiracies

If in considering the evidence in this case you find there is more than the one conspiracy charged in the indictment you must first determine how many conspiracies, if any, did in fact exist. You must next determine which individual defendant(s), if any, belonged to which particular conspiracy. In determining which defendant(s) belonged to which, if any, conspiracy, you are only to consider the acts, statements and declarations of that particular defendant whose case you are considering in seeking to determine if he or she was a member of any conspiracy.

After you have determined the existence of several conspiracies and you have determined the membership of each particular conspiracy, you must then determine if an overt act was committed by any member of that particular conspiracy with the object of furthering the goals of that conspiracy. If you find that no overt act was committed by any member of a particular conspiracy then you must vote to acquit all the members of that conspiracy of the charge of conspiracy contained in the first count of this indictment.

Yates v United States, 354 U.S. 298, 334 (1957)

REQUEST NO. 3

Spoke Conspiracies

If you find that there was one individual who supplied contraband to several different individuals then you must seek to determine if there was any link between the various individuals. If you find that the only link between the various individuals is that they dealt with a common individual then you must vote to acquit all the individuals charged with conspiracy in the first count of the indictment.

United States v Manarite, 448 F2d 583 589 (2d Cir. 1971)

Kotteakos v United States, 328 U.S. 750 (1946).

United States Attorney

ATT: Walter Phillips, Esq.

person so served to be the person mentioned and described in said papers as the Sworn to before me, this day of 19 therein.

5. The indictment contains seventeen counts, but no individual defendant is named in all seventeen counts. In fact sixteen (16) of the thirty-three named defendants have been indicted solely for conspiracy. Eleven (11) of the remaining seventeen (17) defendants have been indicted for two counts, Conspiracy and one substantive Count. Yet, of these eleven (11) all but four (4) appear in different substantive counts. The four (4) co-defendants who appear in the same count are ANTHONY LORIA and RICHARD FABRICK in Count Seven and GEORGE TOUTOIAN and VINCENT RIZZO in Count Thirteen.

6. Thus there are only six (6) co-defendants who have been indicted on three or more counts in this indictment; LOUIS INGLESE, JOSEPH DELVECCHIO, THOMAS LENTINI, PAT DILACIO, JOHN BARNABA and JOHN DOE, A/K/A "JOE RED".

7. Among the sixteen co-defendants who are indicted solely for conspiracy, two of them, ANGELO MAMONE and FRANK PELLEGRINO, A/K/A "SWIFTY"; are not mentioned in any of the twenty-five overt acts enumerated in the indictment. One of them, JOHN DOE, A/K/A "JIMMY WYATT EARP", is mentioned solely in connection with having gone to the "GOLDEN HOUR" in May, 1973, and WARREN C. ROBINSON, A/K/A "ALAN and THOMAS DAWSON, A/K/A "TENNESSEE" are alleged to have traveled from Washington, D.C. to New Jersey. Eight of the remaining eleven co-defendants indicted solely for conspiracy, JOHN SPRINGER, JOHN DOE, A/K/A "SINATRA", AL GREEN, BUTCH WARE, HATTIE WARE, JOHN DOE, A/K/A "BASIL", JOSEPH MARCHESE and MARY JANE SALVIANI are mentioned in the overt acts as having received contraband on one occasion, and only one occasion.

8. Among the eleven co-defendants indicted only on two counts, eight of them are not mentioned in any overt act nor joined in any substantive count with those six co-defendants who are named in three or more counts in this indictment. The three co-defendants, CARMINE TRAMUNTI, JACK SPADA and DOMINICK LESSA, who are named in Counts with the six co-defendants mentioned in Paragraph Six (6), each one of the three is named in a separate and single count of the indictment.

9. Insofar as the six co-defendants mentioned in Paragraph Six (6) are concerned, the activities referred to in 1969, only mention the co-defendants LOUIS INGLESE and JOSEPH DELVECCHIO, while only co-defendant INGLESE is mentioned in connection with activities that occurred in 1971. It is not until the Spring of 1973 that the activities of the six co-defendants mentioned in Paragraph Six allegedly join together.

10. Thus it is apparent that without the conspiracy count sixteen named co-defendants would not be before this Court for trial. In addition eight (8) of the named co-defendants indicted on two counts would also not be before this Court, because the indictment fails to show any nexus between these eight and those co-defendants named in three or more counts. Among the co-defendants mentioned in substantive counts with those co-defendants mentioned in Paragraph Six, each one of the three appears in a single separate Count. Thus without the conspiracy count at least half and possibly as many as two-thirds of the indicted co-defendants would not be before this Court for trial.

11. The conspiracy mentioned in Count One, is not brought in good faith, nor can a claim be made that it is brought in good faith, when from the face of the indictment alone there is more than one alleged conspiracy contained therein. A defendant who is forced to defend himself in a multi-defendant case such as this must thus seek to defend himself not only against

ICES
FREET
V. 10098

the evidence against him, but the evidence affecting other defendant as well, to prevent its transference to him.

12. Moreover, the Government cannot complain if forced to make an election, because, aside from trying cases before different Juries, they will not be presenting evidence in one case against a given defendant that they will then have to introduce at a second trial. The evidence is different as to the vast majority of indicted co-defendants, thus what is relevant and admissible as to one co-defendant quite clearly will be irrelevant and inadmissible as to another co-defendant.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully requested that an Order issue requiring the Government to elect the Count or Counts upon which they will initially proceed to trial, pursuant to Rules 8 (b) and 12 (b) (2) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

Sworn to before me this

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

This Memorandum of Law is submitted in support of a Motion of the above-named defendant, CARMINE TRAMUNTI, seeking an Order requiring the Government to elect the Count or Counts upon which it will initially proceed to Trial, pursuant to Rules 8 (b) and 12 (b) (2) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On _____, 1973, an Indictment was filed with the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York charging thirty-three named defendants in seventeen counts with violations of Federal Law involving alleged trafficking in narcotics.

Among those indicted sixteen defendants were indicted solely for conspiracy, while eleven other defendants were indicted on two counts, Conspiracy and one Substantive Count. Only six defendants were indicted on three or more counts. There is no individual defendant who is named in all seventeen counts.

ARGUMENT

The defendant, TRAWLNTI, contends that while the evidence against all thirty-three defendants may be similar in character, the Indictment clearly shows that there was no connection between the various conspiracies that the Indictment alleges existed. The Indictment shows that the activities of most of the co-defendants consisted of an alleged "single purchase" of contraband.

In, UNITED STATES V. FORELLI, 381 F.2d, 370, 384 (2d Cir. 1964), in an opinion by former Chief Judge Friendly, the Court of Appeals held:

" A sale or a purchase scarcely constitutes a sufficient basis for inferring agreement to cooperate with the opposite parties for whatever period they continue to deal in this type of contraband . . .

Thus, however reasonable the so-called presumption of continuity may be as to all the participants of a conspiracy which intends a single act, such as the robbing of a bank, or even as to the core of a conspiracy to import and resell narcotics its force is

He finished as to the outer links - buyers indifferent to their sources of supply and turning from one source to another, and suppliers equally indifferent to the identity of their customers . . ."

Thus the acts which form the basis of the conspiracy are the alleged single, distinct acts of either individual co-defendants, or the alleged activities of separate and independent groups. It is clear then that we are dealing with separate conspiracies and following the rationale of UNITED STATES V. RUSSANO, 257 F2d, 712 ( 2d Cir. 1956), the defendants will be prejudiced by trying several, distinct conspiracies in one trial.

" The Government does not deny that if the evidence failed to establish a single conspiracy, but established the existence of two conspiracies, one in 1952 and another in 1955-6, the Appellants were prejudiced thereby. Nor could it be otherwise. If appellants had been tried only for the 1952 conspiracies, the admission of evidence relating to the later conspiracy of 1955-6, would have constituted prejudicial error. Similarly, if they had been tried for the later conspiracy, evidence of earlier illegal acts would have been seriously prejudicial."

UNITED STATE V. RUSSANO, Supra, 257 F2d, 715.

In discussing the burden placed upon the defendant in a multi defendant conspiracy case involving multiple conspiracies, the Supreme Court in reversing a Judgment of Conviction affirmed by the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit held in,

KOTTEAKOS V. UNITED STATES, 323 U.S. 750, 756-7 ( 1948 ) held that,

" Obviously the burden of defense to a defendant, connected with one or a few of so many distinct transactions, is vastly different, not only in preparation for trial, but also in looking out for and securing safeguard against evidence affecting other defendants, to prevent its transference as "harmless error" or by psychological effect, in spite of instructions for keeping separate transactions separate ".

The Court went on to state that, "numbers are vitally important in trial, especially in criminal matters "

KOTTEAKOS V. UNITED STATES, Supra, 323 U.S. at 772.

Mr. Justice Rutledge, in commenting upon the issue of proper joinder stated :

" In so ruling we are not unkindful, as the Court of Appeals has held more than once that the problem ... is also essentially one of proper joinder under 557 of the Judicial Code. When we look at that Section's requirement for separate statement in different counts of related but distinct acts or transactions of the same class of crimes or offenses which may be properly joined, instead of having several indictments, our conclusion is reinforced, " to reverse.

KOTTELAKOS V. UNITED STATES, Supra, 328 U.S.

174. The Court indicated that the question of joinder in a criminal case can reach constitutional dimensions as it affects an individual's right to be notified of the charges against him, and his ability to defend himself against those charges and no other.

" That right, in each instance, was the right not to be tried en masse for the conglomeration of distinct and separate offenses committed by others as shown by this record . . . .

Wholly different is it with those who join together with only a few, though many others may be doing the same, and though some of them may line up with more than one group.

Criminal they may be, but it is not the criminality of mass conspiracy. They do not invite mass trial by their conduct. Nor does our system tolerate it ".

KOTTELAKOS V. UNITED STATES, Supra, 328 U.S. at 773, 775.

The Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, in UNITED STATES V. BENTVENA, 313 U.S. 913 ( 2d cir. (1963), citing SCHAEFFER V. UNITED STATES, 352 U.S. 511 (1959) (dissenting opinion), reversed the judgments of convictions for three defendants in a multi-defendant case after finding that the evidence was insufficient to sustain a conviction for conspiracy, although there was sufficient evidence to sustain the conviction on the substantive count.

" The trial of BENTVENA, STRUZZIERI and MONASTERISKY together with those indicted and tried only for conspiracy under the circumstances here portrayed, we feel, constituted prejudicial error as to them. The proof of their participation in the transactions alleged in the substantive counts was presented at the start of the Government's case. Thereafter they and the Jury were forced to sit through months of testimony establishing the conspiracy, none of which related to the substantive accusations. We cannot feel confident that the admission of this evidence against them, when it was legally inadmissible unless they were shown to be part of the conspiracy, did not contribute to their convictions on the substantive counts by blacking them with the general guilt . . . all counts were submitted to the Jury, which found defendants guilty of conspiracy on evidence that we have unanimously held to be legally insufficient, and then considered the mass of hearsay declarations of purported co-conspirators against them ". UNITED STATES V. BENTVENA, 319 F. 2d, 916, 355 (2d Cir. 1963).

In, SCHAFFER V. UNITED STATES, 382 U.S. 511, 523, 524 ( 1959 ) ( Dissenting Opinion ), Mr. Justice Douglas writing for three other members of the Court held :

" But where, as here, there is no nexus between the several crimes, the mounting proof of the guilt of one is likely to affect another. There is no sure way to protect against it except by separate trials, especially, where as here, the several defendants, though unconnected commit the crimes charged by dealing with one person . . . By a joint trial of such separate offenses, a subtle bond is likely to be created between the several defendants though they have never met nor acted in unison . . . the loose practice of trying to bring together into one conspiracy those whose ties are at best extremely tenuous has often been criticized. We allow conspiracy to be put to new dangerous uses when we sanction the practice approved here ".

CONCLUSION

For the reason set forth above the Government should be required to elect the Count or Counts upon which it will initially proceed to trial.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT S. SIEGAL
